U.S. Export Controls & Sanctions training for modern tech teams.

Ethena’s modern training prepares your teams for the challenges they’re facing today, not 20 years ago. With up-to-date content that covers legal regulations automatically, you can provide your team with training they’ll actually enjoy.

Training for the day-to-day flow

We know Export Controls & Sanctions training can seem overly complex, super dry, and daunting. This course is designed with modern learners in mind, keeping topics relevant to their regular flow of work without the legal jargon.

- Learners will come away with a better understanding of export controls & sanctions and how it relates to their individual job roles and responsibilities.

- This course provides a basic framework to learners to help demystify the legal nuances of international distribution.

- Using real world examples and inclusive scenarios, learners will feel more empowered to flag potential risks and red flags associated with exports.
